The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claims 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being fully met by Harris et al. (WO '699), Miller or Bjelkhagen. The applied prior art all disclose metal particle images as parts of security documents even though the formation methods are different from those set forth in applicants' specification. Bjelkhagen discloses silver lippman images from exposure and development of silver halide. Harris and Miller apply metal particles to adhesive surfaces.

2. Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claims 7 and 11 recite the broad recitations of thickness and scanning systems and the claims also recite "in particular" thicknesses and systems with mirrors which are the narrower statements of the range/limitations. Also, in claim 1, the term "in particular a bank note" makes the scope of the security documents set forth indefinite.

There is no antecedent basis in the parent claims for the term "said security paper" in claims 6 and 7, and for the terms "said polymer" and "said precursor" in claim 4. In claims 6 and 7, it is indefinite as to whether the steps are intended as additional steps to those of claim 1 or as specific steps further limiting the film formation steps of claim 1. In regard to claims 1, 2 and 4-21, exposure to form colloidal particles is required but substances that produce semiconductive particles are also included in the coated films so that it is indefinite if semiconductive particle production by exposure is included.

3. The prior art cited by applicants has been considered. Braun is cited as the US counterpart to the cited German patent publication.
